

JESSE WHITE
SECRETARY OF STATE

On July 1, 2015, new federal standards for commercial driver's license (CDL) knowledge and skills testing and the issuance of commercial's learner's permits (CLP) will take effect as set forth below:

- The CLP will be a hard card with photo.
- Applicants must be 18 years of age to obtain a CLP.
- The CLP must be accompanied by either a valid CDL or non-CDL license.
- The CLP will be valid for 180 days. The CLP requires a $50.00 fee, plus all required written tests. The CLP may be renewed up to 30 days before and up to 5 calendar days after the expiration date of the original CLP, without retaking the written testing, at a cost of $50.00. If the initial CLP has expired more than 5 days or upon expiration of a renewed CLP, the applicant must re-take all applicable testing and pay a $50.00 fee.
- CLP holders must hold the CLP for a minimum of 14 days after issuance. No skills test can be administered during that 14-day period. The 14-day waiting period also applies to all upgrades in classification or endorsements/restriction changes that require a skills test.
- The only endorsements permitted on a CLP are School Bus (S), Tanker (N) and Passenger (P).
- A CLP holder with an N endorsement (tank vehicle) is prohibited from operating a tank vehicle unless it is empty. In addition, if the tanker previously contained hazardous materials it must be purged (X restriction).
- A CLP holder with a P and/or S endorsement is prohibited from operating a CMV with passengers, other than Federal/State auditors and inspectors, test examiners, other trainees, and the CDL holder (P restriction).
